

Business Litigation

Lathrop & Gage represents clients' interests in all manner of disputes at the local, state and federal levels.

Our team includes former state attorneys general, current and former elected officials and leaders within key regulatory bodies. Several of our attorneys have been inducted into the American College of Trial Lawyers.

To provide the highest level of specialized expertise to our clients, we focus our business litigation resources in the following areas:

- Antitrust
- Appellate practice
- Class action and multiparty litigation
- Creditors' rights
- General business and complex commercial litigation
- Professional liability
- Real estate litigation
- Securities litigation
- Trade secrets
- White-collar criminal defense