Law360

Lathrop GPM Business Transactions Partner Lisa Hansen was recently interviewed by Law360 in a summary of state and local tax cases to watch in 2023. Ohio's highest court is set to decide whether an Ohio law that allowed cities including Cincinnati to tax remote workers at the beginning of the pandemic violates process protections afforded by the U.S. and Ohio constitutions. Lisa explains that tax issues surrounding remote work continue to be vexing, and are some of the top concerns she deals with in her practice.
