

Jennifer Hannah Honored in Women Who Mean Business

July 8, 2015

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (July 8, 2015) – Lathrop Gage Executive Committee member and Litigation Division Chair, Jennifer Hannah, was recently named among the 2015 Women Who Mean Business by the Kansas City Business Journal.

Each year, the Kansas City Business Journal selects 25 exceptional businesswomen in the city and compiles a class of Women Who Mean Business. Honorees represent a variety of industries and must meet several qualifications including: engaging in a for-profit business, being a top-ranking corporate woman in Kansas City who is serving in a leadership or executive role, and serving both their company and the community.

“Jennifer is an excellent leader in the firm and admired by many for her dedication, leadership, and accomplishments in the legal world,” said Mark Bluhm, Lathrop Gage CEO. “She is paving the way for female leaders both at Lathrop Gage and in the community.”

In addition to leading the firm in multiple roles, she has handled a broad range of litigation disputes and also provides general counsel to several local, privately owned businesses. Hannah has received numerous awards and honors for her work.

About Lathrop Gage:

Lathrop Gage has 320 attorneys nationwide serving clients in the areas of litigation, intellectual property and business. Chambers USA ranks Lathrop Gage’s corporate, environmental, labor and employment, litigation and real estate practices among the best in their regions. For more information, visit www.lathropgage.com.