

AAPC: Stacy Harper on Using E/M Benchmarking to Assess Your Audit Risk

January 15, 2013

In the current regulatory environment, physicians are searching for ways to minimize audit exposure. One way to do this is by understanding your use of CPT® codes prone to audit review. For example, Medicare administrative contractors (MACs) frequently review high-level evaluation and management (E/M) services. Providers with high use of targeted E/M codes are more likely to be audited. Read more ...