Clients turn to Lathrop Gage healthcare attorneys to help navigate an increasingly complex landscape. We represent urban and rural hospitals and hospital systems, physician groups, multiple provider networks, ambulatory surgical centers, imaging centers and radiation therapy centers, residential care facilities, home care providers, nursing homes and managed care networks and organizations throughout the Midwest and across the nation.

In one of the most heavily regulated industries in the United States, we understand the complex and ever-changing laws and proactively leverage that insight to deliver strategic and practical advice that aligns with our clients' business objectives. Our integrated healthcare team calls on attorneys from multiple practice areas, advising on regulatory and compliance issues, labor and employment, litigation and investigations, and corporate governance and transactions. Our attorneys are repeatedly selected by Best Lawyers in America for their healthcare, corporate and litigation prowess.

With Lathrop Gage, you get the benefit of boutique-like industry focus with the depth of an AmLaw 200 firm.
