

Gray Plant Mooty Adds Three New Attorneys to Firm

January 31, 2013

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (Jan. 31, 2013) — Gray Plant Mooty is pleased to announce three new attorneys have joined the firm. They include:

- Catherine (Trina) Sjoberg - principal in the Real Estate practice group in the Minneapolis office
- Bradley Hintze - associate in the Real Estate practice group in the Minneapolis office
- Justin Sallis - associate in the Franchise & Distribution practice group in the Washington, DC office

Sjoberg is a Board Certified Specialist in Real Property Law and was named a "Rising Star," by Minnesota Law & Politics, in 2011. She represents national lenders, community banks, and borrowers in construction, real estate, and asset-based financing. Trina also has extensive experience with real estate development, common interest communities and leasing.

Hintze is a Board Certified Specialist in Real Property Law. He serves a variety of clients in both Minnesota and Wisconsin, and has extensive experience working on acquisitions and divestitures, office, commercial, industrial and retail leasing, development projects and related financing transactions. In addition to his real estate transactional practice, Brad works with a number of banks and non-bank lenders in real estate secured financing projects.

Sallis practices in all aspects of franchise law including franchise litigation, contract disputes, franchise disputes, and commercial litigation. He works with clients ranging from small employers to public entities and international corporations. Prior to joining the firm, Justin served as a law clerk to the Honorable Thomas F. Hogan of the United States District Court for the District of Columbia.
